

RAIL MEN AND ROADS DISAGREE ON THREE ESSENTIAL FEATURES

STRIKE SETTLEMENT DEPENDING ON THESE

Jewell Issues Statement Naming Strikers' Demands and Placing Responsibility for Strike Continuance and the Consequent Heavy Losses, Directly to Rail Executives

THE RAIL SITUATION AT A GLANCE (By The Associated Press)

President Harding spent most of the day conferring with Ben Hooper, chairman of the labor board and members of the senate committees on the railway strike.

Secretary Davis conferred with W. L. McMenimen of the labor board, and B. M. Jewell and other strike leaders at Mooseheart, Ill., to gain all possible information on the controversy.

Agreements between the roads and employees prevented strikes of 7,300 clerks, freight handlers, station and express employees on the Chicago & Northwestern railway and 4,000 on the Big Four.

A committee representing the "big four" brotherhoods complained to Senator Cummins that engines and train equipment were getting in poor order and possibly in a dangerous condition.

Eastern railroads are planning to form company unions, L. F. Loree, chairman of the eastern presidents' conference of railway executives announced.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Three principal issues prevent a possible settlement of the railway shopmen's strike, B. M. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor said in a statement tonight. These issues, he said, are found in the refusal of the rail executives:

1.—To discontinue contracting out of work.
2.—To establish a national board of adjustment.

3.—To continue seniority rights of employees who suspended work.

"The responsibility for increasing losses to the railroads, to the communities they serve and to the wage earners upon the railroads and elsewhere, thru continuance of the present suspension of work," the statement said, "rests now plainly upon the association of railway executives and particularly upon that small but dominating group, representing the New York banking interests."

Pointing out that the railroad labor board has decided against the practice of contracting out railroad work in certain cases, Mr. Jewell asserted the Erie railroad, the New York Central and its subsidiaries, including the Indiana Harbor belt, the Michigan Central and the Big Four, and the Western Maryland road have contracted out shop work.

A Common Practice.

"Many other roads," the statement said, "have followed the same practice and always with the purpose and result of reducing wages, evading decisions of the labor board, degrading working conditions and attacking the employees' organizations."

Asserting that the Erie, New York Central and Western Maryland as well as other roads have announced their decision to fight decisions in this matter to the highest court, Mr. Jewell said the board's decision against the practice would be set at naught for years by some roads. He said if courts continue to decide that the board's powers are only advisory, "eventually all railroads will be able to adopt the contracting out method of evading the transportation act wherever it is to their advantage."

The contract issue is the only one of the three issues on which a strike vote was taken which, Mr. Jewell's statement today said held up a possible settlement. The other two were wages and working rules, it having virtually agreed at conferences that these matters could be submitted to the labor board for a hearing. The seniority and adjustment board issues arose since July 1.

The Adjustment Board.

Appealing for national adjustment boards to decide disputes, Mr. Jewell said that the association of railway executives opposed such boards for the purpose of "deliberately" overloading the labor board.

Employees desire one national board, the statement said, because shop work conditions are practically the same everywhere, uniform national rules have been promulgated by the labor board, and the union interpretation of such rules is desirable and intermediate board will create inharmonious rulings and regional boards would impose duplication and unfair expense.

The proposition to deprive men of seniority rights because of suspension of work, the statement said, "is utterly indefensible."

GOOD YIELDS OF WHEAT.—A. W. Petefish of Litterberry, who was in Jacksonville Saturday, said that most wheat fields in the vicinity of Litterberry are yielding from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre this year. There is on trouble about the quality as the wheat is weighing 59 to 60 pounds to the bushel.

LENROOT GIVES WOOL TARIFF HIS ATTENTION

Would Reduce Higher
Duties Proposed on Coarse Wool

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 22.—While the barrage preliminary to the battle over the wool schedule in the administration tariff bill was laid down today in the senate, an under-the-surface movement was started by Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, looking to a general reduction in the higher duties proposed on coarse raw wool and manufacturers of that wool, little of which is produced in October.

The warrant, signed by County Attorney Roland Boynton, a nephew of Mr. White, was issued on an information filed by a representative of the Governor, a lifelong friend of the editor.

Removes Card

Immediately after the warrant had been served Mr. White removed from display the placard which today expressed 52 per cent sympathy with striking railroad men.

In a statement made White said the objectionable placard would not be displayed pending legal settlement of the case. The statement explained that this action was no compromise, absolutely no acknowledgement of the right of the state to suppress free utterance, published in decent and orderly manner, but followed "a profound belief in law and legal processes."

To Speak Monday

Both Governor Allen and Editor White will appear on the same program at the Kansas state normal school here Monday.

The senator estimated that the duty on coarse wool products ranged from 25 per cent to 127 per cent. He made it plain that he was not opposing the committee's duties on the fine grades of wool either in the raw state or manufactured products.

DISCOVER QUINCY MAN MURDERED

QUINCY, Ill., July 22.—Henry Schonarth, aged 42, bachelor, was found murdered in a ravine near his home, about six miles southeast of Quincy Saturday afternoon. There were three bullet holes from a revolver in the region of his heart, these having been inflicted while he was in an outbuilding. There was also a laceration of the left side and arm from a gun shot wound. One of the revolver bullets went thru the body and the wall of the building, the door of which was closed with a log in front of it. There was no evidence of attempted robbery, and no motive can be assigned for the killing. The body had been dead some hours when discovered by a neighbor.

EMPORIA EDITOR TAKES DOWN THE OFFENDING CARD

Says Action No Com
promise or Acknow ledge of Wrong

(By The Associated Press)

EMPORIA, Kans., July 22.—A warrant charging William Allen White, author, with violation of the industrial court law in displaying a placard sympathizing with the striking railroad shopmen, was issued in district court today. Mr. White, through his attorney, immediately made bond for his appearance when the case is called for trial in district court in October.

The warrant, signed by County Attorney Roland Boynton, a nephew of Mr. White, was issued on an information filed by a representative of the Governor, a lifelong friend of the editor.

Removes Card

Immediately after the warrant had been served Mr. White removed from display the placard which today expressed 52 per cent sympathy with striking railroad men.

In a statement made White said the objectionable placard would not be displayed pending legal settlement of the case. The statement explained that this action was no compromise, absolutely no acknowledgement of the right of the state to suppress free utterance, published in decent and orderly manner, but followed "a profound belief in law and legal processes."

To Speak Monday

Both Governor Allen and Editor White will appear on the same program at the Kansas state normal school here Monday.

The occasion is governor's day at the school. The chief executive was to make a speech. Today school officials invited Mr. White to appear and he gave his consent.

Warrants were sworn out tonight for two striking railway men who are said to have distributed the sympathy posters to local merchants. They are William Pierce and Justin Morgan.

The warrant to Mr. White's arrest charges specifically that he "hindered, delayed, interfered with and suspended operation" of trains on the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe railroad.

Two Courses Open

When a law or a legal authority confronts a man's conscience, just two courses are open to him," said Mr. White in statement.

"He must seek its repeal in the legislature or its annulment in court. The Kansas legislature is not in session. My only other course is to seek the annulment of the order which seems to me to restrict freedom of utterance. The risk is great, but the action quicker. If, in seeking the annulment of any order or law, the protesting citizen obeys the order or law, while the case is pending no man can question his motives. This is exactly what I am doing and it is what I am asking all good citizens to do. The case is now in the courts. That is where it belongs."

(By The Associated Press)

MOOSEHEART, Ill., July 22.—Following a conference tonight with B. M. Jewell, head of the striking railway shopmen, and shopcrafts president, Secretary of Labor Davis announced that he believed the strike could be settled if the roads would give the striking shopmen their seniority rights and there was a re-hearing by the labor board on other disputed questions.

After the conference Secretary Davis talked to President Hardin over long distance telephone, submitting a report of the information he had gathered.

Secretary Davis said that the principal obstacle to a settlement was the seniority question, and that he believed the matter of establishing national adjustment boards could be adjusted. The contract question "does not stand in the way of an agreement," he said.

ers. The general complaint of the labor chiefs, he said, was that the carriers do not accept the decisions of the labor board, while the employees in nearly every instance have abided by these decisions.

Mr. Jewell and the other labor chiefs attending the meeting made no comment but left immediately for Chicago. Among them were the international presidents of the six shop crafts unions and Timothy Healy, president of the Firemen and Oilers' union which also is striking.

Secretary Davis had previously conferred with W. L. McMeniman, labor member of the labor board. Mr. Davis said that the entire situation was discussed and that he had gained the views of both the board and the unions. He explained that the aims of his conferences was to become thoroughly informed regarding the dispute, as the labor board does not come under the jurisdiction of his department.

LAWN SERVICES*WELL ATTENDED

The union lawn services at the Grace M. E. church are now well attended affairs as North Church street was literally crowded with parked cars last Sunday night. This kind of service is growing very popular among the people of the city and the audience responds excellently to the community singing led by Rev. W. H. Marbach. Seven churches are included in the services this year and all are doing their best to make them a success to the community in a spiritual way.

This evening Rev. W. E. Spoons of Northminster church will deliver the sermon. The joint service of the Epworth League and the Baptist Young People's union precedes the services by an hour.

GANDHI EXPLAINS BELIEFS TO FRIEND

Says There is no Barrier Between East and West; Decries Modern Civilization.

AHMEDABAD, India—Mahatma Gandhi, in prison here for sedition, declares his loss of liberty cannot materially affect the progress of India nationalism, and urges his friends to carry on the work in which he has so large a part. He has no complaint to make regarding his treatment by prison officials.

Gandhi remains loyal to the principle of Swadeshi, which he defines as 'that spirit in us which restricts us to the use and service of our immediate surroundings, to the exclusion of the more remote.' In religion he would follow only the forms of worship used by his ancestors; in politics he would make use only of indigenous institutions; in economic life, he would use only things produced by his immediate neighbors, and would serve only those industries which are native to his own country. He is at enmity with modern civilization.

Writing to a friend in India, Gandhi explains his beliefs and aims in these words:

"There is no impassable barrier between East and West. There is no such thing as Western or European civilization, but there is a modern civilization which is purely material. The people of Europe, before they were touched by modern civilization, had much in common with the people of the East.

"It is not the British people who are ruling India, but it is modern civilization, thru its railways, telegraphs, telephones, and almost every invention which has been claimed to be a triumph of civilization. Bombay, Calcutta, and other chief cities of India are the real plague spots.

"If British rule were replaced tomorrow by Indian rule based on modern methods, Indian would be no better, except that she would be able to retain some of the money that is drained away to England; but then India would become only a second or fifth nation of Europe or America. East and West can only really meet when the West has thrown overboard modern civilization, almost in its entirety. They can also seemingly meet when the East has also adopted modern civilization, but that meeting would be an armed truce.

Medical Science is Black Magic

"Medical science is the concentrated essence of black magic. Quackery is infinitely preferable to what passes for high medical skill. Hospitals are the instruments that the devil has been using for his own purpose, in order to keep his hold on his kingdom. They perpetuate vice, misery, degradation and real slavery. If there were no hospitals for venerable diseases, or even for consumptives, we should have less consumption, and less sexual vice among us.

"India's salvation consists in made clothing, whether it comes out of European mills or Indian mills.

"India's salvation consists in unlearning what she has learned during the past 50 years. The railways, telegraphs, hospitals, lawyers, doctors and such like have all to go, and the so-called upper classes have to learn to live religiously and deliberately the simple pleasant life, knowing it to be a life giving true happiness.

"There was true wisdom in the ages of old having so regulated society as to limit the material condition of the people; the rude plow of perhaps 5,000 years ago is the plow of the husbandman today. Therein lies salvation.

People live long under such conditions, in comparative peace much greater than Europe has enjoyed after having taken up modern activity."

PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR ILLINOIS SOILS

Twenty Years of Experiments Show that it Materially Increases Crops.

URBANA, Ill.—Finely ground raw rock phosphate, used in experimental field work in Illinois for almost 20 years, has proven its ability to very materially increase crop yields, according to a statement by the University of Illinois.

"It has been definitely shown that it can be profitably used in building up the fertility and maintaining the productiveness of normal farm lands," the statement continued.

"Beginning with 1908, steamed bone meal and raw rock phosphate have been used in direct comparison on the University of Illinois farm at Urbana. At first the bone was superior fertilizer, but as an average of the past four years the rock phosphate has on some crops proven to be superior to the bone phosphate. In general, the comparison shows that when used on wheat, oats, clover and alfalfa, the rock phosphate is equally as efficient as the steamed bone phosphate. At the present low prices for the above named crops, the rock phosphate is returning annually about $3.50 an acre.

"The fact that rock phosphate becomes more valuable after it has been used for a time on land is clearly demonstrated on the Joliet Experiment Field. On this field, rock phosphate was first used on wheat in 1914 and that year it increased the yield 1-2 bushel per acre. This yield increased gradually year by year until in 1921 the gain in wheat yield amounted to 9.7 bushels an acre. On this same field as an average of four years, rock phosphate has increased the alfalfa yield 1,600 pounds an acre."

WILL URGE COMPLETION OF DEEP WATERWAY

PEORIA, Ill.—A committee of eight to be chosen from various parts of the state by Warren Sullif president of the Peoria Chamber of Commerce, together with a committee of seven from the Illinois Chamber of Commerce shortly will go to Springfield to urge upon Governor Len Small the completion of the Illinois river deepwaterway project without further delay. Albert Schuch of Ottawa is chairman of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce Committee.

The pistol had one use to which the average cowboy would, from time to time, enthusiastically devote it, and that was the production of noise. When put to use the weapon was fired either directly upward into the air or slantingly downward at the ground, for the West had no blank cartridges. On such occasions the pistol's effects would be supplemented by Indian-like screeches and coyotelike howls.

As to the bad man, he was often a boaster, this historian says.

Tazewell Woody, famous as Col. Roosevelt's guide in the west, was standing in a saloon with left elbow on the bar, right hand hanging by his side, and eyes luckily pointed at the mirror behind the bar. He caught in the mirror the reflection of a bad poke momentarily into the saloon's doorway, and belonging to a man who had publicly stated his purpose of killing Woody at sight.

This man, having apparently realized the coast to be clear and that the saloon contained a sufficient audience, turned his horse rode thru the doorway, and boldly said: "Has any gent here seen that feller Woody? I'm hunting for him." At that instant the man realized, for the first time, that Woody was in the room and he realized also that, though he himself was facing Woody's back, the mirror negated this advantage. He saw that right hand hanging idly down. The badman hanging out thru the doorway and on his own initiative rode out of the State.

WOULD IMPROVE THE COON RUN DISTRICT

PETITION FOR BETTERMENT OF DRAINAGE DISTRICT HAS COURT APPROVAL

Before Judge Samuel in the county court yesterday a petition was filed by land owners in the Coon Run Drainage and Levee District, asking that the old channel be dredged and the levees rebuilt. The petition received the approval of the court.

Landowners who signed the petition and the acreage represented are:

John H. Wilker, 157; D. F. Beauchamp, 114; J. F. Brockhouse, 40; J. F. Yeck, 420; Matilda Baujan, 180; George H. Christianer, 220; Albert Butcher, 160; Levi T. Hodges, 140; A. J. Leslie, 40; Harry Leonard, 68; Mrs. Minnie Beauchamp, 183; Mrs. Helen Augustine, 80; Royal Oakes, 240; Clarence McCaleb, 80; B. F. Burrus estate, 120; William Meyer, 57; Estate of Henry Goebel, 200; E. T. and W. A. Strubinger, 177.

A report was filed with the petition by the Jacksonville Engineering Co., showing plans and profiles and an estimate of the cost. The total estimated expense is $79,000. This expenditure would cover Dresser ditch, Coon Run and Eagle Run levees, together with the cost for drainage tile, the construction of an open ditch and a pumping station. The sum also includes court and engineering costs.

The Coon Run district was organized in 1899 and includes about 4600 acres of land.

COWBOY OF OLD DAYS PEACEABLE MAN

PRINCETON, N. J.—When the movie fans get the truth about the cowboy from this stately seat of learning they may be surprised. The word does not come from this seat of learning exactly but rather from a product of it. Philip Ashton Rollins, trustee of Princeton, and some time cowboy when the West was raw.

Football was not rough enough for Rollins in the old days of the flying wedge so he tucked his diploma under one arm and a gun under the other, took Horace Greeley's tip and went out to see the country.

One of the first things Rollins discovered when he got out West was that he had little or no use for the gun and even less for the diploma. The fact that Rollins had made a very important touchdown again Yale at one time did not cause any Western mayors to meet him with a band.

This cowboy historian says the real cowboy was not much like the one seen in the movies these days. The real killers and bad men of the West in the days now gone were not cowboys at all but just "tough guys."

The pistol had one use to which the average cowboy would, from time to time, enthusiastically devote it, and that was the production of noise. When put to use the weapon was fired either directly upward into the air or slantingly downward at the ground, for the West had no blank cartridges. On such occasions the pistol's effects would be supplemented by Indian-like screeches and coyotelike howls.

As to the bad man, he was often a boaster, this historian says.

TRAVEL IN RUMANIA IS NOW DIFFICULT

GALATZ, Rumania—Some railroad trains in Rumania are so jammed with the roving populace that the conductors are powerless to collect fares. Hence the impression is conveyed that one may travel for nothing, which serves only to bring larger numbers to the already overcrowded coaches.

Like most other war-affected countries, Rumania has not enough passenger coaches to take care of the throngs of people who want to travel. The Germans and Austrians confiscated most of the rolling stock. Passengers today are forced to ride on the roofs, bumpers, running boards and even on the under-trucks of the coaches. Fist fights and altercations, to say nothing of accidents, fatal and otherwise, are of frequent occurrence.

CARTHAGE, ILL.—Farmers near Adrian, near here, are making arrangements for cooperative marketing of cream. ## ICE CREAM

URBANA, Ill.—Ice Cream is not only not a "delicious dessert, but is a very valuable food as well," says a statement issued from the University of Illinois. It also contains cane sugar, another valuable energy producer.

"Carefully prepared ice cream is wholesome and highly nutritious. Make it at home or buy it ready to eat.

"Use ice cream not as an occasional confection but often as a refreshing, cooling, hot weather food."

GEORGE AND HIS SPECS

GEORGE TOPORCER

lasses Are No Bar to George Toporcer, Who is Making Good With the St. Louis Cardinals

BY BILLY EVANS

A phenomenon is George Toporcer of the St. Louis Cardinals. A baseball is nine inches in circumference. Scientists claim that accurately follow the course of a small object one must have perfect vision. Not so with George Toporcer. He defies the laws of science. His eye is imperfect. When in the field he is forced to wear special banded lenses in order to properly focus.

When Toporcer joined the Cardinals in the spring of 1921 he was hailed as a curiosity. No one for a minute figured it would be possible to solve big league baseball with a pair of eyes that needed heavy glasses to right the plate.

The idea that a player could perform in the infield, handicapped by bad eyes and wearing glasses, was also ridiculed. True, neither Meadows, who made his mark with St. Louis, had been successful, but pitching was different from playing in the field.

While Toporcer will never be Rogers Hornsby yet he has proved a most valuable player for St. Louis club.

In the spring of last year, when Lton Stock was late in reporting, Hornsby moved over to third place of Stock, and Toporcer did in most acceptably at second.

It would be impossible to compare what great aid Toporcer proved to be for the Cardinals in the spring of the present campaign.

Fifty-Fifty.

"It requires no more nerve to face big league pitching, with glasses than without them. If a player wearing glasses is hit in the region of the eye he surely is in for some trouble. However, let a pitcher hit a batter without glasses in the region of the eye and you can draw your own conclusions. It's about an equal chance either way."

Toporcer has worn glasses since he was 11 years old. He is now 23. The spectacles are for nearsightedness.

PRONOUNCE IT TOE-PORE-SIR

GEORGE TOPORCER has been a much talked about individual in the National League. Wearing heavy glasses to correct nearsightedness, his batting was the sensation of the circuit while subbing for Shortstop Lavan of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Perhaps the name of no player who has broken into the majors has been mispronounced as much as that of Toporcer. Recently, when Evans asked him how to do it, he replied:

"Say it this way—Toe-pore-sir. Accent the pore and you have it."

On May 15 and 16 of this year, he achieved the unique distinction of having rapped out two triples and two home runs in four successive trips to the plate.

That is some feat for a leather-necked veteran, to say nothing of a pink-cheeked, "four-eyed" rookie.

Toporcer is a left-handed hitter and has been unusually successful against southpaw pitching.

How does Toporcer feel facing the speedy shots of the leading National League pitchers? Here is his own answer:

"It requires no more nerve to face big league pitching, with glasses than without them. If a player wearing glasses is hit in the region of the eye he surely is in for some trouble. However, let a pitcher hit a batter without glasses in the region of the eye and you can draw your own conclusions. It's about an equal chance either way."

Toporcer has worn glasses since he was 11 years old. He is now 23. The spectacles are for nearsightedness.

ELI AND PRESS COME TOGETHER NEXT THURSDAY

REMEMBER the argument between the Eli and Press team? Well, these two teams of the Twilight league now have hopes of settling their dispute without casualties. Time, place and umpire have been decided upon, and after next Thursday the indications are that peace will be established between the factions.

For the benefit of those unacquainted with the facts, it might be well to state that the teams broke off relations during a game two weeks ago at the State Hospital field. The Press players refused to go further and charged the umpire with unfair decisions. Then, after considerable dickerling, a game to settle the entire argument was matched. Both outfits are claiming victory when they meet.

The contest is scheduled for 5:30 o'clock next Thursday evening at the Indees park. Manager Frank Smith having donated the park for the occasion. E. J. Christopher, a member of the Indees lineup, will umpire.

Ebenezer Missionary Society

How oft a trifle will touch a spring
That opens a casket of hidden things
And causes the memory bells to ring
Their low sweet chimes on the spirit's ears
Till we bridge the chasm of buried years
And the past as the present is with us here.

In this case the trifle was the request that I write a history of our Women's Foreign Missionary Society, to be read today.

On an old blue and white album quilt, which has been kept among our treasured family reliques, is written on one of the white blocks the following historical sketch:

This quilt was pieced in the year of 1883 and '84 by the ladies of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Ebenezer Auxiliary, organized June 1, 1879, with the following members: Mrs. Samuel Garrett, Mrs. David Angel, Mrs. Nancy Wilson, Mrs. A. C. Patterson, Mrs. Hardin Jordan, Mrs. Edmund Blackburn, Mrs. W. H. Walter, Mrs. W. H. Jordan, Mrs. John Harrison, Miss Addie Angel, who cheerfully engaged in the work of their Lord and Master.

The zeal and enthusiasm with which this little band of noble women worked is indicated on another block of this same blue and white patchwork quilt, which records the names of the then present members of the Ebenezer Society, which in the first five years had increased from eleven to twenty-four members. The roll that year included these additional names: Mrs. J. Neithorpe, Mrs. Eliza Jordan, Mrs. John S. Williamson, Mrs. William McElfresh, Mrs. William Patterson, Mrs. Joseph Blackburn, Mrs. George Blackburn, Mrs. William Harrison, Mrs. Robert Palmer, Mrs. Nancy T. Bailey, Mrs. S. W. Black, Mrs. Lilly Jouett, Miss Lizzie Patterson, Miss Alice Palmer, Miss Kate Blackburn.

The recorder has added one encouraging feature is that our circle is increasing. There are good indications of life and growth and with God's help we expect to go onward.

These two entries on this old missionary quilt testify of the courage and faith of these pioneers in the missionary cause. On still another white block is written this item:

The object of this quilt was to raise money for the missionary fund. By charging ten cents per name we have realized six dollars. The quilt was sold at our annual mite box opening to Edmund Blackburn for the sum of twenty-four dollars, making a total of fifty dollars for the society.

Then on the small white blocks are the autographs of 260 people who are scattered today from the far East to the Pacific shore, and from the great northwest to the land of the sunny south. From these distant places memory is luring them back to the home of Long Ago, and on the last Thursday in the month, which has been observed as Missionary Day for more than forty-three years in the Ebenezer neighborhood. From California, Colorado, Texas, Tennessee, Indiana, and far away Bulgaria tender memories are flitting back to the Old Time Missionary Tea.

There were no automobile in those days, no telephones, by which the hostess might call up the members and remind them that it was Missionary Day. No rural mail delivery. It was not possible to notify the members by mail as the farmers received their mail not oftener than once a week. Oiled roads and hard roads had hardly existed in the minds of the most far sighted.

But in spite of these inconveniences, when the last Thursday of the month came, all had been notified and they were all there. The fathers, the mothers, the grandfathers, the grandmothers, the uncles, the aunts, the cousins and all the children. It was a real community affair. Many today are saying,

Our days have soon dropped into years
The years into a life time grow
The heads that then were dark or fair
They now are sprinkled o'er with snow.
But years may come, or years may go
Bring wealth or want, bring joy or woe.
But only death from me can take
The picture which these old teas make.

Long before the appointed time the hostess had been busy preparing for the coming event. The largest ham was cooked and the choicest chickens slaughtered for the occasion. Not only was it a social function of great pleasure but here many for the first time became interested in the less fortunate of other lands, here were they taught the joy of sacrifice and the pleasure of being a factor in the evangelism of the world.

It was in those early days of the society that friendly exchanges of visits were first made between the Ebenezer and Point societies. Some of us remember how our parents would make the long drive, come home full of merriment for the hospitality of their friends at the Point, who at that time considered it bad form to let a single inch of the spotless white table linen remain uncoversly some delicious dish. And our parents would often speak of the Old English tarts, the cheese-cake pies and the English roast beef.

Through the years of friendship of these two societies has been welded until now it has become a custom to have an annual joint meeting held at the parsonage home.

It is a remarkable fact that of the eleven charter members of the Ebenezer auxiliary, six are still living to bless our own society or to lend their help to the churches with which they have become associated.

Our first president, Mrs. Samuel Garrett, was the first to cross the Crystal River. She had no children, but her memory is honored and revered by all members for her untiring devotion.

The next to cross over was Mrs. A. C. Patterson, but the work she laid down has been taken up by her two granddaughters, Mrs. Utah Martin and Mrs. Grace Lower.

Mrs. Eliza Jordan soon went to meet those who had gathered at the river. Her work was continued in the society by one daughter, Mrs. Edmund Blackburn, until last week when she was called to cross over and meet them at "The River," and by three granddaughters, Miss Ella Blackburn, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin and Mrs. Clara Paschill.

Mrs. John Angel next answered the call to meet her sisters beyond the river. Today she is represented in our society by two daughters, Mrs. C. W. Martin and Mrs. Ellen Cully, two granddaughters, Mrs. Charles Black and Mrs. August Waltman and two great granddaughters, Miss Mary Black and Miss Elsie Cully.

When that small group of women met in the little white church by the roadside and organized a woman's foreign missionary society they lit a candle whose rays have penetrated to earth's darkest corners. Because of their vision lives have been consecrated to the Master's cause. It has been the privilege of some to go. It has been the privilege of all to send.

The founders of the society and the excellent people of the community with faith and courage looked into the future, the dim, dim future. They saw a vision of spiritual welfare for their own vicinity and for the lands beyond the sea. They realized that "The paths of life would be strange and dim."

Unit by the Star of Bethlehem. Leading our footsteps up to Him.

We honor and appreciate their noble efforts. Since the small beginning other quilts have been pieced, carpets have been made, sales and festivals have been held. The number has grown from 11 to 52 members.

But today what better motto can we adopt than that which is written on the old quilt—as the founder said so long ago let us repeat now—"With God's help we expect to go onward."

GIVES FACTS ABOUT CONFERENCE AT DIXON

Congregational Young People Had Very Interesting Program There.

The first annual Illinois Congregational Young People's Conference held at Rock River Camp-Dixon, was a great success. Dr. R. W. Gamon was mainly responsible for formulating and developing the plans for the Conference and he brought together a splendid group of leaders for the young people.

Perhaps no one came into closer touch with his students than did Rev. Harold Cooper, of Columbus, Ohio, formerly American Board Missionary at Madura, India. His clear insight into life and conditions in India and his exceptionally good speaking ability made his class very popular. It is hoped that it may be possible to have his come to Jacksonville for a week-end visit some time during the coming winter. But it was by no means one man faculty.

Dr. Arthur E. Holt, very favorably known to those who attend Forum gave three splendid courses and preached twice. Miss Miriam Woodberry of New York gave an inspiring course in Christian service. Her tales of home missionary work among the Indians were especially interesting—one of them showing how a missionary unseated a U. S. senator. Dean Margaret Taylor, of the Congregational Training School for Women, led the Young People's Work. Mrs. Grace Mayer Oakes, of Oak Park, gave a fine course in the Use of the Drama and Pageant in Missionary and Religious Education, culminating a very interesting public exhibition.

Rev. A. W. Barwick, of Mendon, was specially successful in his course in church history. Rev. Frank Briar, of Geneseo, led the Course in Bible for the Older section of the Conference. The recreational part of the Conference was under the leadership of Rev. G. E. Stickney of the local Congregational church, and Miss Vera Watson, secretary of the Training School for Women.

There were one hundred young people in attendance and interest and enthusiasm were such as to indicate a much large attendance next year. The local church was well represented, having four regular delegates and four representatives on the "faculty." DeKalb was the only church having a larger total in attendance. The flag for the best attendance went to the Washburn church at half-day, when the number of regular delegates was taken in relation to the size of the church membership. An interesting account of the Conference is scheduled for Wednesday evening at the Congregational church.

Jacksonville Chautauqu Friday, Aug. 11, to Sunday, Aug. 2

LIEUT. F. F. MORGAN'S RAINBOW DIVISION BAND

Afternoon and Evening, 13-14-17

The Jacksonville Chautauqua is independent and because it is independent it is different from the usual run of Chautauquas. Its management, entirely local, selects every number on its program. No agency sends a cut-and-dried program here such as used by towns with circuit Chautauquas. The noted Chautauquas such as Chautauqua, N. Y. and Winona Lake, Ind., are all independent because they are permanent, secure the best talent and select programs to fit their communities.

Our 1922 program includes 20 concerts by such organizations as Morgans' Rainbow Division Band with 30 men. The Hadley Conser Company with 7 people, the Sholle Orchestra with 6 Sholles, Brown's Jubilee Company of 6 vocalists, and the Tschalkowsky Quartet.

The lectures number 25. The speakers include William Jennings Bryan, U. S. Senator Pat Harrison, John G. Benson of Travelers Church, New York, Ada Ward, famous English speaker and entertainer, S. J. Duncan-Clark, editor and author, Victor Dahibaksh from India, S. A. Hauboush from Galilee and other equally fine lecturers.

A cartoonist, a magician, and a character-comedian and the Net-ties, musical entertainers, are on for entertainment.

Adult subscribers season tickets may be had for $2.50 while they last. With a season ticket you can enjoy any or all of the programs. The program for any single day is worth the cost of the season ticket. Lots of us have paid as much for single events no better than many on this program. It is marvelous that ten days' programs including such well known and excellent speakers and such large musical companies can be presented at so low a price.

The Chautauqua hence the cost of the tickets has been raised by the 1919 and 1920 seasons showed deficits. Every season tickets are lower than those of similar associations and no greater than is charged for the best of the 3, 4, 5, and 6 days.

JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS,

SCIENTISTS JOURNEY TO CHRISTMAS ISLAND

Astronomers Travel to Island in Indian Ocean to View Total Eclipse of Sun Predicted for September 20.

Berlin.—(By The Associated Press.)—Christmas Island, a tiny patch of land in the Indian Ocean which is distinguished by its pretty name, will be a busy place for a few minutes
on September 20, and from that activity may come many startling announcements of a scientific nature.

Astronomers have calculated that Christmas Island will be one of the few spots on this earth
for which the sun will be totally eclipsed September 20 for a little more than six minutes by the clock, which computes its time
as such vast periods as "light years" is preparing, however, to make quite a fuss over this insignificant six minutes.

A German scientific expedition organized by Dr. Erwin Freundlich of Potsdam University is on its way to Christmas Island with a large number of delicate instruments by which it hopes to make a thorough test of the Einstein theory of relativity. If Einstein's theory is correct, the expedition expects to succeed
in its journey.

Accompanying Dr. Freundlich
are Dr. Joseph Hopmann, Bonn University, Professor August Kopff of Heidelberg and
Dr. F. Voute of the University of Copenhagen. The expedition has been arranged by the International Astronomical Society, supported by Dutch and German philosophers. A German steamship company has agreed to furnish the transportation free of charge and wealthy German and Dutch citizens will bear all other expenses. Prof. Einstein himself may decide later to join the party.

The equipment to be used in the tests consists of two of the most modern photographic telescopes, one of which is 3.60 meters long and the other 8.50 meters. Both are capable of taking detailed photographs at extremely long focal distances, the plates used will be fifty centimeters square, and the time of exposure will range from 10 to 90 seconds. Eight or ten photographs will be taken during the brief six minutes.

The test of the Einstein theory
of light curvature decided upon by this expedition is possible only when the sun is completely eclipsed. Thus its practicability is sharply defined.

Several American, Australian
arrangements for the convention

and English expeditions also are headed for Christmas Island,
where they plan to make various tests and astronomical observations
in connection with the six minutes of the eclipse.

President Ebert of Germany is facing a bad end, which is due to occur within the present
year, according to his horoscope,
which has just been announced
by an astrologer whose name is Ebertine—strikingly like that of the nation's chief executive.
This same prophet claims to have read a message from the stars
last June foretelling the murder of Foreign Minister Rathenau.

Ebertine, in making the horo-
scope public, says that it bears a remarkable similarity to the astro-
logical conditions that prevailed
over the former German empire
at the exact hour when William I.
was proclaimed emperor of Germany at 12:15 o'clock
on the afternoon of Jan. 18, 1871.

Had the birth of President
Ebert occurred in the morning or
evening, the astrologer declares,
his horoscope would have been
quite different, and he would not
have become head of the German
republic, but as he was born
exactly at noon on Feb. 4, 1871,
he comes under a star which
holds an unhappy ending.

Ebertine quotes the "Astro-
logical aphorism" as his authority
in this prediction, which, he says,
is based on the tenth quarter appearing in the Wassermann constella-
tion, thereby bringing dishonor
and finally downfall if Saturn stands inauspiciously, as
it did when Ebert was born. The
astrologer warns the president
that he should be exceptionally
cautious during the coming
months in all his undertakings
and decrees.

SEEKS INFORMATION ON STREET MAINTENANCE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Springfield is seeking information from other cities on how to keep streets
in repair and raise and expend money for this purpose. Questionnaires have been sent to 50 cities
the size of Springfield by the Chamber of Commerce. The entire downtown district is being re-paved this summer. The city government has an annual fund
of $4,000 for street maintenance, which gives less than $100 a year
for each mile of pavement.

RETAIL MERCHANTS TO MEET IN ROCKFORD

Rockford, Ill.—(By The A. P.)—
The annual meeting of the Retail Merchants' association of Illinois will be held in Rockford three days, September 25, 27 and 28. Arthur J. Lawton, president of the Rockford Merchants' and Businessmen's association is organizing committees to make arrangements for the convention.

The State Historical Society has
no records of the location of the corner stone. Mrs. Jesse Palmer
Weber, secretary of the society,
has collected some data on the laying of the stone but can offer no
definite information as to its location.

Edward W. Payne, former banker
and prominent citizen of Springfield,
who as a very small boy witnessed the dedicatory exercises
and watched the construction of
the capitol, thinks the stone lies
under the north corner of the east
wing under the governor's office.

The corner stone was laid Oct.
5, 1868. One of the architects
of the building was employed as
one of the architects of the Iowa State capitol and borrowed the
plans of the Illinois building.
These were afterwards destroyed
by fire. Mrs. Weber says, and no
duplicates are known to be in existence.

The possibility that the real
corner stone is buried beneath a
new stone used for the purpose is advanced by Mrs. Weber. She
says those who have studied the
matter have concluded that the
original stone was found to be de-
fective or spongy and was sunk
further into the ground, and that
a new stone was placed over it.

HARD ON HUNTERS IN KENDALL COUNTY

Aurora, Ill.—(By The A. P.)—
Careless hunters and city residents who go to the country and
destroy farm property are due for
a warm reception from Kendall
county farmers. They have formed
a county wide organization "to
prevent trespassing or hunting on
the farms of the members."

"Our farmers recognize the
interest city people have in farming," says Earl Price, county
farm advisor. "But experience
has taught them that while many
of the city visitors are willing to
comply with the law and anxious
to observe due care and the property rights of land owners and
tenants, yet there are many who
are unwilling to observe the
farmers' interests or even his
property rights."

Kendall county farmers have
been bothered by people carrying
off chickens, turkeys and even
shooting live stock, it is said. The new organization has been incorporated and is going to take steps
its officers say, to protect the
property of farmers.

WILL DISCUSS PROBLEM OF TUBERCULOSIS

OTTAWA, Ill.—Medical, social and financial problems of tuberculosis are to be discussed at a conference here July 27 and 28
under the direction of the Illinois Tuberculosis association for 60 counties in the central and northeastern section of the state. Dr.
George Palmer of Springfield, Dr.
Imas Rice of Aurora, Mrs. A. P.
Kilmer of DeKalb, J. W. Becker of Springfield, Dr. E. S. Murphy of Dixon and Dr. L. A. Beard
of Polo will lead discussions.

GAS WELL FOUND NEAR BLOOMINGTON

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—A gas
well has been struck at the home of Charles Wagner. The drillers have gauged the pressure at 25 pounds. Scores of people have taken the opportunity of visiting what in this part of the country is the unusual sight of the burning of a gas well in testing.

You'll find that you can wear one of these all during the months of August and September, and it will be in good shape for next season, as they launder perfectly. Buy now, and buy cheaper.

CORNERSTONE SEARCH IS UNSUCCESSFUL

All Efforts to Locate Cornerstone of Illinois State Capitol Building Prove Unavailing—Various Theories Advanced.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The corner stone of the Illinois capitol building has been lost and is nowhere to be found. State officials speculate, the state historical society investigates, while the custodian of the building digs up
the earth but the elusive stone cannot be located.

Ebertine, in making the horo-
scope public, says that it bears a
remarkable similarity to the astro-
logical conditions that prevailed
over the former German empire
at the exact hour when William I.
was proclaimed emperor of
Germany at 12:15 o'clock
on the afternoon of Jan. 18, 1871.

Had the birth of President
Ebert occurred in the morning or
evening, the astrologer declares,
his horoscope would have been
quite different, and he would not
have become head of the German
republic, but as he was born
exactly at noon on Feb. 4, 1871,
he comes under a star which
holds an unhappy ending.

Ebertine quotes the "Astro-
logical aphorism" as his authority
in this prediction, which, he says,
is based on the tenth quarter appearing in the Wassermann constella-
tion, thereby bringing dishonor
and finally downfall if Saturn stands inauspiciously, as
it did when Ebert was born. The
astrologer warns the president
that he should be exceptionally
cautious during the coming
months in all his undertakings
and decrees.

Some hold that the cornerstone
is under the east wing of the building, directly beneath the governor's office, and Mr. Tucker maintains he can see, faintly visible on one of the stones at this location, what once was carved lettering. But others hold that they can see no signs of lettering
on this stone, even with field glasses.

The plans of the building are not in existence, having been destroyed or lost many years ago.
State Architect Martin has been unable to determine under which wing the original stone was placed
and is at a loss to locate it.
Conjectures of many persons in his office and many old employees in the state house have placed it in various positions about the building.

The State Historical Society has
no records of the location of the
corner stone. Mrs. Jesse Palmer
Weber, secretary of the society,
has collected some data on the lay-
ing of the stone but can offer no
definite information as to its location.

Edward W. Payne, former banker
and prominent citizen of Springfield,
who as a very small boy wit-
nessed the dedicatory exercises
and watched the construction of
the capitol, thinks the stone lies
under the north corner of the east
wing under the governor's office.

The corner stone was laid Oct.
5, 1868. One of the architects
of the building was employed as
one of the architects of the Iowa
State capitol and borrowed the
plans of the Illinois building.
These were afterwards destroyed
by fire. Mrs. Weber says, and no
duplicates are known to be in existence.

The possibility that the real
corner stone is buried beneath a
new stone used for the purpose is
advanced by Mrs. Weber. She
says those who have studied the
matter have concluded that the
original stone was found to be de-
fective or spongy and was sunk
further into the ground, and that
a new stone was placed over it.

HARD ON HUNTERS IN KENDALL COUNTY

Aurora, Ill.—(By The A. P.)—
Careless hunters and city residents who go to the country and
destroy farm property are due for
a warm reception from Kendall
county farmers. They have formed
a county wide organization "to
prevent trespassing or hunting on
the farms of the members."

"Our farmers recognize the
interest city people have in farming," says Earl Price, county
farm advisor. "But experience
has taught them that while many
of the city visitors are willing to
comply with the law and anxious
to observe due care and the property rights of land owners and
tenants, yet there are many who
are unwilling to observe the
farmers' interests or even his
property rights."

Kendall county farmers have
been bothered by people carrying
off chickens, turkeys and even
shooting live stock, it is said. The
new organization has been in-
corporated and is going to take steps
its officers say, to protect the
property of farmers.

HUNTING HOG KEEPS LARD- ER FILLED WITH QUAIL

COLONEL TUCKER Gibson, LOUISIANA SPORTSMAN, AND BETSY, HIS HUNTING HOG, IN ACTION.

By N. E. A. Service

FROGMORE, La., July 22.—
When quail season rolls around,
Colonel Tucker Gibson shoulders
his shot gun and takes in leash Betsy, America's hunting hog.

And he comes home with his game bag filled.

Betsy, four-year-old offspring
of a common southern razorback hog, is the equal of any bird dog
in Louisiana as a hunter, says Gibson. He's refused scores of large offers for the animal.

While Betsy still was a sticking, a hunter shot the sow that was raising her. The other pigs in the litter died and Betsy was
home.

And quail dinners (in season)
are never lacking at Gibson's
home.

BABSON SEES REVOLUTION IN REAL ESTATE

The Statistician Sees New Factors That Will Upset Present Standards of Value

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass.,
July 22, 1922.—Roger W. Babson
adviser to over seventeen thousand of the country's leading executives has called another turn.

In a statement issued today he outlines coming conditions in the real estate field and advises the purchase of suburban property before it is too late.

"The big movements in real estate usually get well under way," says Mr. Babson, "before anyone realizes what is going on.
Because they have seen land unused for years most people think it will always continue so. This is why the original holder seldom makes any profit from real estate. The value is so close to his cost that he does not see it."

"A fundamental change in real estate values is taking place.
So far it has proceeded quietly without much publicity. Few people have realized it. The fact is that people are moving to the country.
A few wise heads have discovered
the bargains in country homes
and they are quietly buying up all the land they want for themselves and as much more as they can carry for a speculation."

"My advice to those who want suburban real estate is to buy at once. For the past decade or more people have been crowding to the cities. Now, however, a reverse movement to the country is beginning which promises to be the greatest shifting in population since the institution of the railroad. Within the next ten or more years the building of suburban homes should rival the growth of the automobile, good roads, the movies, the phonograph
or radio!"

"In fact, these inventions make possible the suburban movement.
A few years ago country homes were limited to the rich or to those employed in the country, because only such people could afford means of transportation.
Now automobiles have come within reach of the great middle class of people. They are increasing at the rate of more than a million a year. Ten years ago there were 1,000,000 passenger automobiles
in the United States. Today
there are about ten million, which is an average of one car to about every ten people! They are bringing new and better roads and opening up millions of acres of hitherto inaccessible lands. The more cars purchased, the more families there are who can have a suburban home, even though the breadwinner must work in the city. Wage earners during the last period of prosperity spent their money for motor cars; in the next period of prosperity they will buy country homes!"

"The motion picture has put the local town hall on a par with the city theater. The motor truck is giving the rural or suburban dweller nearly the same freight and express facilities as
has the city dweller enjoys.
Last but not least, the radio,
especially if developed on General Squire's wired basis, gives to suburban homes the finest
city lectures and music."

"The reason for suburban expansion, however, is not alone

most spectacular development in new building should take place!

"If you are interested in real estate the situation demands action!
It means that if you want to buy desirable suburban land near any good city at present low prices,
you will have to go about it at once.
In selecting such property, a good plan usually is to follow out the best residential street and buy where land begins to sell by the acre instead of by the foot. On the other hand, if you own city dwelling house
property which cannot be converted to business uses, the quicker you get rid of it the better. This does not apply to business buildings nor to property which will soon be in demand as the business section of the city expands. It does apply to other city dwelling houses for which such extravagant rents are now demanded. Remember that while the readjustment in industry is well along, the readjustment in real estate values has only

The National Trade-mark

Old silversmiths, in order to help people tell pure silver from cheaper imitations, marked the real thing "sterling."

In a like manner, manufacturers, who stand back of their wares, identify them with trade-marks that are your guarantee of quality. By advertising these trade-marks, they focus on their products the searchlight of attention.

Only good goods, fairly priced, can flourish in this light of publicity. For no merchandise and no business can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

That is why a manufacturer, or a merchant, places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. His goods must be as advertised.

So, in looking through this paper, remember this: the man who spends his money to invite your consideration of his wares, backs up his belief in his goods and leaves the final decision to you.

It pays you to read the advertisements. It pays you to buy advertised products.

Advertising is your protection

D. D., Editor

Golden Text: Who thru faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouth of lions.—Hebres XI 33.

Daniel and the Lions.

The Hebrew race has furnished several prime ministers of first ability to great empires. Not to mention those of profane history and modern times. Joseph was chief adviser of Pharaoh in Egypt and Daniel of Darius in Babylon. In neither instances was there anything in the religion of the incumbent to unfit him for affairs of State. On the contrary, there was much that qualified. But religion did not shelter from the shafts of envy. Thus "chaste as ice or pure as snow," he could not escape calumny. No crime was so great as during to excel. The unwavering rectitude of this fearless Hebrew was a constant rebuke to his fellow-officials. Just as this juncture the king took steps toward a civil-service reform and meditated making Daniel head of the bureau. It looked as if their speculations were about to be unearthed. Self-preservation as well as jealousy now prompted the conspiracy against the life of this incorruptible servant of the State. The plot was well suited to the king's vanity and weakness.

It was cleverly suggested that obedience to this decree would be a conspicuous recognition of the fact that the king not only not reigned by Divine right, but that he himself was Divine. This is a figment of antiquity which survived even to our day in the Divine nature accorded until recently to the Mikado of Japan. Daniel had a room built on the flat roof of his palace, a sky-parlor, where, isolated from his household, he could give himself to devotion. For fifty years his face up-turned in prayer at the lattice had been a familiar sight to the passerby. The very inaccuracy of his death is what suggested the trap to his enemies. The decree is sealed. It is irreversible. Daniel knows it. Will he desist or continue? His life is the forfeit. Lynx eyes are on his lattice. At the appointed hour he appears there according to his custom. It is not with the spirit of bravado; not because he is reckless and headstrong; but because a principle is at stake; and he is the most conspicuous representative of his race. As he does, so will they. The power of a thousand sermons is concentrated in his conduct in this emergency.

Great in the council-chamber he is greater in the closet of prayer. The weakness of Darius makes a good foil for the courage of Daniel. If he had not the adage, "A bad promise is better broken than kept," he had at least the principle which underlies it, for that is perennial. The promise to do unjust and inhuman things is best kept in the breach of it. Or, if this fiction of the memediles penalty must be observed, then Darius should have gone to the den in Daniel's stead. The palace and the den—what a contrast! In that building "the marvel of mankind," the monarch of the world, was restless and unhappy. He loathed the dainties of his banquet-room, nor would he listen to music. Sleep forsook him. An upbraiding conscience and a consciousness of unkingly weakness were his companions.

In the den Daniel had the indescribable joy of an approving conscience, void of offense toward God and man. He had the fulfillment of the promise, "He shall give His angels charge concerning thee." His security was complete, his companionship angelic. The steadfastness of Daniel and his consequent miraculous deliverance was the finishing touch in the providential process of preparing the Hebrews for their exit from bondage. The circumstance had a powerful educational effect upon the heathen also.

Present Day Applications.
It would seem impossible to minimize the peril of a lion's den. Yet Livingston held lions in actual contempt and Dan Crawford calls them mangy cowards.

Great perils like lions are to be locked out of countenance. Faith in God makes one able to do it.

Grow!
The miracle of growth passes unobserved. It is because it is so gradual and unostentatious. It is the grain of mustard seed and the leaven in the meal of which Jesus spoke. Yet the marvel is in progress in every human being. It is three growths in one: the physical, the base of the others; the mental, the process of education in which the faculties are led out in exercises; and finally, the spiritual, in which the powers of the soul assert themselves, the growth in Christ, the living head. This triple growth of a human being is the greatest thing that God Himself looks down upon in the world which He has made.

The Power Plant from a $1795 Car

Six Cylinders—50 Horsepower—$1065

The six-cylinder motor of the Jewett is a development from the Paige 6-44 motor that proved its worth in thousands of Paige cars everywhere.

Last year you paid $1795 for a five-passenger touring car powered with this 6-44 motor—and it was then an outstanding value in the competitive field.

Now, with many refinements and improvements, with the addition of force feed oiling, this superb power plant is the heart of the Jewett.

And the price is $1065, f. o. b. Detroit.

BIRDMAN MUST QUIT BRIDE FOR FLIGHT TO NORTH POLE

MRS. ELMER G. FULLERTON AND HER AVIATOR HUSBAND
HOME SHE WILL ALLOW TO RISK DEATH IN A FLIGHT
CROSS THE POLE TO FURTHER HIS CAREER.

By PHILIP J. SINNOTT.

"But he's going to win," insists Mrs. Fullerton, the there's a suspicion of tears in her eyes. "My husband is a cautious flyer who takes no unnecessary chances. If the flight is humanly possible, he'll make it safely."

"Why did I consent to let him go? Because Elmer loves flying more than anything else. Because I realize with him the pioneering possibilities of such a flight."

"This flight, if successful, will establish the commercial possibilities of aircraft."

"Besides I feel this is the one big opportunity of Elmer's life as a flying pilot. If he succeeds his future will be assured."

"I shan't worry. Elmer told me not to be troubled if I do not hear from him for a year, for he may reach Spitzbergen too late to get the boat out."

The Fullerton marriage grew out of a wartime romance. Fullerton met his bride when he was an aviation instructor at Eastbourne, England, and she was a British war nurse.

Both returned to Canada and the marriage took place at Montreal.

WHITE HALL OBSERVES BIG ANNUAL HOLIDAY

Exciting Ball Game Marked Annual Holiday Observance Thursday—Other News of Interest from White Hall.

White Hall, July 21.—White Hall observes an annual holiday of its own. It partakes of a baseball game between the clerks of the east side and the west side of Main street, always for some popular public benefit, and is always conducive of so much enjoyment and the promotion of fellowship among the business men that it is a day that is eagerly anticipated and participated in each year by a succession of business during the afternoon.

This year the day fell on last Thursday. The day chosen has no reference to any special local event of notable character as it probably will have in the future when the proposed historical and memorial society goes to functioning. The clerks lined up for the fray on the Legion park diamond, and the result was the first victory for the west side clerks in fifteen years, the score being 11-12. The credit for this shifting of honor is accorded T. M. English as manager, who legally belongs to the east side, but he saw signs of victory abandoning Allen Brennan's men this season, and he accordingly shifted his affection and organized the west side to suit his fancy with victory as the outcome. The gate receipts, amounting to $75 were turned over to the K. of P. band, a new organization under the direction of F. A. Brooks, who is again a citizen of White Hall, after an absence of fifteen years at Arlington, Kansas, where he served as band leader, railroad agent and postmaster.

Enlarged importance attached this year's local business holiday by combining the annual Baptist fish fry, which was held in the gymnasium building at the grade school, and it was the most successful yet held, the dinner receipts amounting to $207.50 and the total for stands and evening luncheon being $24.70. The building operations and general activity in Baptist circles was a contributing factor in this annual showing. This total was exclusive of the sale of brick in the new building at one dollar each, of which one thousand are being sold by E. A. Webster, chairman of the building board.

Pioneer Engineer Visitor
Thomas C. Farley, a pioneer locomotive engineer on the Big Four, was in town this week, departing Friday for Beardstown, where he will be located for some time engaged in special contract work for the Burlington. He has been running engines on contract work for several years, having given up road work many years ago. He states that the Burlington have let the contract for cutting down the Big Dutchman hill, between Frederick and Browning, and those in a position to judge the job will realize what a tremendous undertaking it is, and it will likely require more than a year to accomplish. This will eliminate the use of pusher engines on the hill. The Burlington will also build a large retaining wall at the point of the washout in the Illinois river last spring. Mr. Farley recited the names of old C. & A. Purling and Wabash engineers of twenty years and more ago, who used the joint track between Waukegan and East St. Louis, and all became fast friends. He named twenty-two who have passed away and to this number he added Frank Kendall of the Burlington, whose death he had not heard of until coming to White Hall, but he had Frank Johnson listed. Among the C. & A. engineers he named W. P. Strunk and James Donnelly, the latter still in the service and he hopes to call on the former at his home in Roodhouse, where he lives in retirement.

Asked about the labor situation, he said: "I am at a standstill and rather discouraged at the continual strike. We see what labor has accomplished, but there seems to be no definite line between capital and labor, one seeming to be determined to go beyond limitations in exercising power over the other, and it is difficult to see what the proper limitations are and what mark each side is striving for. I am a union man and always shall be, but I lost my rights to becoming the oldest engineer in the service of the Big Four thru the Debs strike in 1894. I do not believe the violence of the present day is the work of union men."

Mr. Farley makes his home at Hillsboro, where he has been thru a long period of illness. He is thoroughly conversant with railroad contract work and says the proposition of the C. & A., to eliminate the Drake hill is an old one, remaking that there was a piece of spite work somewhere that caused the C. & A. to build as it did.

The Vehement Flame, by Margaret Deland—This is the last novel by this famous author and was published serially in the Woman's Home Companion for the past several months. It is full of emotional power and dramatic quality that will rank even above those two masterly books, "The Iron Woman," and "The Awakening of Helen Richee." In this last story is told the life of a boy of nineteen who is swept by his youthful emotions into a romantic marriage with a woman of thirty-nine. He finds no handicap in the disparity of years and sees only an idyllic future with this woman with the beautiful voice. But the woman sees only the reasons why it might fail—sees them but does not admit them even to herself. And from smoldering deception springs the vehement flame of jealousy. So the boy who is ready to bring love and happiness into the life of the woman is driven by her jealousy to a betrayal of his own best instincts. He becomes much interested in a lovable girl even much younger than himself. The unraveling of the tangled lives makes a book full of love, passion and tenderness, and in the end light to all. Get it at the Public Library.

Hupmobile Finely Built

It is almost impossible to wear out the Hupmobile. The first Hupmobiles, built 12 and 13 years ago, are in use today, all over the world.

Owners, and those who buy in the used car markets, would tell you its depreciation is slower and smaller; that its price as a used car is proportionately higher. Back of its longer life and rare economy, is, of course, the way the Hupmobile is built.

The fact is that many of its important parts are identical, in material and in manufacturing costs, with the same parts in the cars of the highest price; and Hupmobile shop practices are exceptionally fine and close.

STOCK MARKET HAS FEATURELESS SESSION

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Tact approval by the federal government of the independent steel mergers provided the only feature of today's dull and otherwise featureless session. Extreme gains of 1 to almost 3 points were scored by Bethlehem-Lackawanna, Republic and Midvale Steels,
but this advantage was largely forfeited on realizing sales.

Motors manifested much of their recent reactionary trend, Studebaker being subjected to further pressure with several less prominent issues of that group.

Rails were listless, but final quotations were mainly towards lower levels. Equipment, coppers and related shares moved within the narrowest limits. Sales amounted to 275,000 shares.

Weekly trade reviews bore out general business but chiefly to the coal and railroad strikes. Distribution of merchandise fell below the corresponding period of last year but collections were better.

A contraction of $4,000,000 in actual loans and discounts was the noteworthy item in the weekly clearing house statement. This was accompanied by a decrease of $95,650,000 in demand deposits
and a cash gain of $31,554,090, including excess reserves to almost $44,000,000.

United States war loans again
dominated the bond market, Lib-

CHILDREN'S PARTY GIVEN AT WAVERLY

Herbert Miller Celebrates Eighth Birthday—Radio Concert Is Planned for July 27.—Other Waverly News.

Waverly, July 22.—Herbert Miller celebrated his eighth birthday this week in a very pleasant manner. A number of his friends were his guests on the important occasion and the time was spent with various games and contests. Refreshments of a suitable kind were served by his mother. The guests were Harold Chenuwell, Margaret Mader, Mildred Hunt, Glenn Field, Lilla Crum, Louise Hortsman, Nelson Mader, Robert and Catherine Gibson.

A radio concert will be given at the Bijou theatre Thursday night, July 27. Music will be received from St. Louis, Kansas City and Chicago or Detroit. Word has been received by friends here of the marriage of Miss Nelle Numley of this city and Albert Spires of Jacksonville which occurred in East St. Louis, Tuesday, July 18, at the home of the bride's brother, O. J. Spanehower. They will reside in Jacksonville with the groom's mother, Mrs. M. Jameson.

Miss Agnes Schrieber of Pekin arrived for a visit of several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schrieber.

Mrs. Elmer Bastine and children of Peoria are making a visit of several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Mary Cook.

Elizabeth Goss and grandson, Charles Fleming of Delevan are spending a few days with relatives here.

Misses Bernice and Irene Baker of Versailles are visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Albert Hendrick.

Mrs. Juliet Messerly left Thursday for Ft. Dodge, Iowa, for a visit of several weeks with her niece, Miss Ella Messerly.

Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Hughes and sons Alfred and Donald left Thursday for Atwood, where they will visit until Sunday at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Sallie McClain.

Misses Helen Crum and Ruth Jaret have gone to Webster Grove, Mo., for a visit with Miss Mildred Ashbaugh.

Mrs. J. J. Cody left Thursday for Kankakee to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cody.

Harry Hobaker left Friday for Chicago where he will enter a hospital for a period of treatment.

The cash which the wheat crop brings into Morgan county enables us to hold our corn when others are forced to sell.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Cutting Out Wheat—Contrary to the opinion of many, it will not get rid of the chinch bugs to cut out the winter wheat. The bugs will breed in rye and oats as well as wheat. If we want to get rid of the bugs by a cropping system, we must cut our corn and put in legumes on which bugs do not feed. Bugs do not injure wheat to any appreciable extent, so it would be a serious mistake from an economic standpoint to further a move to reduce our wheat acreage.

Mrs. C. C. Freeman and two children left Saturday for their home in Urbana, having spent three weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Duncan.

Mrs. Robert Woods of Jacksonville came Friday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boyer are spending a few days with relatives in St. Louis.
